

Social Value Manager

Wynne Construction has an exciting opportunity for a Social Value Manager to join our busy Social Value team. We are looking for someone who is highly motivated and passionate about helping to make a real difference in the communities where we work.

As a Social Value Manager, you'll be working from our head office in Bodelwyddan, supporting social value commitments with travel to sites across Wales as required.

Your day-to-day duties will include:

Leading and delivering project activities related to Social Value on a range of exciting projects.

Liaising closely with our clients and internal stakeholders to deliver an engaging and meaningful programme of social value initiatives that will include, but is not limited to, increasing local employment opportunities, developing skills, educational programmes and local community engagement projects.

Supporting site teams and our supply chain to capture and report Social Value outcomes.

Organising and supporting work experience placements with the site teams and members of our supply chain.

Delivering social value presentations, attending careers events and representing Wynne Construction as required.

Monitoring, collating and reporting Social Value performance data progress against KPI targets through means of social value portals/databases.

Capturing Social Value best practice and creating project case studies for tenders and publicity.

Co-ordinating Meet the Buyer/Job Fairs and supporting other company-wide supply chain events.

Organising and attending school and local community visits to our sites (organising site photography for events as required).

Attributes for the Role:

- A proven track record of coordinating and supporting social values programmes and activities, ideally with experience within the construction industry.
- A self-starter, used to managing a diverse and varied workload, a good communicator and excellent ambassador, who can identify and develop key relationships internally and externally.
- Ability to work both as part of a team and independently with excellent time management skills and attention to detail.
- Experience with social value calculator systems within the construction sector. Also experience with evidencing impact delivered to local communities (desirable).
- Strong IT skills.
- Welsh speaker (desirable).

Experience & Skills

The ideal candidate will have a construction or built environment, or business-related degree but we welcome applications from anyone with transferable skills from other courses or industries. The postholder must hold a full driving licence.
